

CONGRATULATIONS

TO THE
STOCKHOLM SCHOOL OF ENTREPRENEURSHIP, SWEDEN, WINNERS OF
THE EUROPEAN BUSINESS PLAN
OF THE YEAR COMPETITION 2006

The European Business Plan of the Year Foundation would like to congratulate Richard Gabler - John Frost - David Johansson - André Rhodin

on the success of their business plan for FASSHE, which produces a Bar Inventory and Management System that enables bar and restaurant owners to perform their inventory and ordering of alcoholic beverages automatically.

- Winners Stockholm School of Entrepreneurship (SSES), Sweden
1st Runner-up Athens Laboratory of Business Administration (ALBA), Greece
2nd Runner-up Tanaka Business School Imperial College London, United Kingdom
Special Award London Business School, United Kingdom

EBPYC thanks RSM Erasmus University for hosting the event and its sponsors for their dedication and support.

The European Business Plan of the Year Competition (EBPYC), is Europe's longest running business plan competition and was created to encourage the teaching of entrepreneurship and the creation of new ventures.

As one of the world's top business schools, RSM Erasmus University in Rotterdam, the Netherlands, is a centre of excellence and innovation for management education and research.

