AI Anxiety to AI Advantage: Leading Yourself Through Disruption

As artificial intelligence takes over more of what we do, technical skills expire faster than ever and the real advantage shifts to something machines cannot replicate: the higher-order ways we think, reason and adapt.

Join Alba Graduate Business School in Athens, July 5–8, 2027, for four days that turn disruption into advantage.

Explore the psychology of AI adoption, trust and ethics, build the meta-skills of an AI-proof mind, and discover how focus, decision-making and creativity keep your human edge sharp. Learn from Alba faculty and leading practitioners, and let Athens be your classroom, from the Acropolis and the National Gallery to the sea at Vouliagmeni.

Learning Experience

- Understand the psychology of AI adoption, trust and ethics in business
- Lead with phronesis in times of AI
- Build the meta-skills of an AI-proof mind
- Develop a learning agility and growth mindset
- Sharpen focus, decision-making and creativity: your human edge
